Organisational Overview

VACCHO is the peak representative for the health and wellbeing of Aboriginal people in Victoria and champions community control and health equality for Aboriginal communities. We are a centre of expertise, policy advice, training, innovation and leadership in Aboriginal health and wellbeing. VACCHO advocates for the health equality and optimum health of all Aboriginal people in Victoria.

Unit Overview

The VACCHO Education and Training Unit plays a key role in achieving the short and long term goals of the VACCHO membership and the development of a highly skilled Aboriginal Health Workforce and Aboriginal Community Controlled Health sector in Victoria. The Education and Training Unit specialises in training programs for the expanding Aboriginal Health Workforce and has specialist expertise in Aboriginal and or Torres Strait Islander Primary Health Care.

We also carry out other projects related to training and development for the benefit of the Aboriginal communities of Victoria and interstate. VACCHO's Education and Training Unit is a Registered Training Organisation.

Role Overview

The major focus of this position is the delivery of Aboriginal health and personal care qualifications from AQF level III to Diploma. The role includes the design and delivery of training to aspiring Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait Islander health workers and carers, as well as assessment activities and contribution to training materials and resources for VACCHO courses.

Key Responsibilities

- Coordinating, facilitating and contributing to the development, delivery, assessment, validation and moderations of accredited training programs in Aboriginal Health or other qualifications from Australian Qualifications Framework (AQF) standards for educational qualifications in level III to V levels as required and in accordance with VACCHO's ETU policies and procedures.
